

CANVASSING THE RETURNS

The State Board Look Over the Returns From Choteau, Certify to Them and Adjourn.

Alderman Thieme and Family Narrowly Escape Death From Asphyxiation.

A Chinaman Found Dead in His Bunk—A Revelling Case in Judge Sanders' Court—Other Local.

Judge Blake and Secretary Walker, members of the state canvassing board met yesterday forenoon at 10 o'clock to continue the count but concluded to adjourn until 2 o'clock for Governor White, the other member who was expected to be present. There were quite a number present to see what would be done with the returns from Silver Bow county. Among those noticed were: Judge Blake, Judge Cullen, Hon. J. K. Toole, Thomas C. Power, Samuel Word, R. B. Smith, William Wallace, Jr., O. B. O'Bannon, U. S. Marshal Irvin, W. F. Wheeler, A. Chessman, J. U. Sanders and Sam Alexander. The vote of Choteau county was canvassed which took but a few moments. There was no change made from the figures already published.

When Judge Blake picked up a large official-looking envelope with several seals upon it every one knew what was coming. The judge broke the seals, pulled out the contents of the envelope and spread them before him. He looked the pages over carefully. Governor White and Secretary Walker also looked. They consulted together. Mr. Walker produced a copy of the statutes, and Governor White and he looked over a section. Judge Blake asked for something which was produced from the letter file in the shape of a letter. It was read, and the Walker also looked. They consulted together. NARROWLY ESCAPED DEATH. Alderman Thieme and Family Nearly Asphyxiated by Coal Gas.

Alderman Thieme, wife and family and a young lady visitor narrowly escaped death Thursday night by being suffocated by gas which escaped from a base burner stove. When the family retired there was quite a fire burning and the alderman regulated the dampers as he thought in a proper manner. His wife, child and himself slept in the room where the stove was. The young lady visitor slept in an adjoining apartment. The occupants were broken during the night and the rooms seemed close, but no one could imagine the cause.

About 7 o'clock yesterday morning the child commenced crying and Mr. Thieme attempted to rise to pacify it. He got on his feet, but immediately fell to the floor, where he could have lain in a semi stupor, but realizing that he was very sick he managed to reach the door and open it. The fresh air revived him somewhat and he entered the room again, roused his wife and child and conveyed them to the open air. The young lady succeeded in getting out of the house and all vomited freely. Mr. Thieme sent for Dr. Cole, who arrived and made an examination. He was at first inclined to the belief that it was sewer gas which had caused the sickness, but investigation showed the true cause. The family were soon out of danger, but are still sick from the poison their system absorbed. The escape was marvelous, as death results in nine out of ten cases of the kind.

A SUDDEN DEATH. Lee Kong, a Chinaman, Found Dead in His Bunk on Bridge Street.

Lee Kong is no more. He was buried yesterday with all the pomp attendant upon a Chinese funeral. Lee was found dead in his bunk in the basement of No. 14 1/2 Bridge street yesterday afternoon. He was cold and stiff and must have been dead for a good many hours. He had been a sufferer from consumption and was wasted away to the skeleton of his former self. He lived with a number of his countrymen in the little, narrow, foul smelling quarters in which he was found, and when he was able to work did what odd jobs he could around town. He came in Thursday night, his partner said, about midnight and immediately went to bed. He did not complain of feeling any worse than usual.

The inmates of the den did not pay any attention to Lee yesterday morning, thinking him sleeping, and were surprised when they attempted to awake him yesterday afternoon and found him dead. The coroner was notified, but, when informed of the facts concerning his death, did not think it necessary to hold an inquest, and gave a permit for burial. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Sennet, who placed them in a casket and put the casket in a hearse which had been backed up to the sidewalk, upon which a horde of the dead celestial's companions were congregated. An express wagon was filled with the dead man's effects and a box containing a whole roasted chicken, bread, rice and sweetmeats. A large earthen jar filled with sand also occupied space in the wagon. In the sand were stuck numerous tapers and bamboo sticks lighted and giving off a sickening odor.

A Chinese woman ran about crying: "Ah toy! ah toy! ah toy!" an expression of lamentation. At a signal the funeral cortege, consisting of the hearse, the express wagon, a buggy and a carriage wound around into Clote street. A Chinaman sat with the driver of the hearse throwing strips of paper into the air. The mourners upon the sidewalk chattered and jabbered among themselves and many were laughing, whether at the curiosity of the white people or the unfortunate death of their comrade is not known.

The little Chinese woman still ran hither and thither chanting her sing-song refrain "Ah toy! ah toy! ah toy!"

The famous German drama "Leonore die Todtentraut" will be presented for the first time to a Helena audience on Sunday evening at Ming's opera house. It is considered one of the finest of German melodramas. Rehearsals are progressing very favorably and if we can judge by the pains taken by the different members of the cast, it will be a splendid success. Reserved seats can be procured at Pope & O'Connor's drug store.

IN JUDGE SANDER'S COURT.

The Clough Junction Rape Case—The Bogus Detectives.

When Judge Sanders opened court yesterday for the trial of David Smith, of Clough Junction, a motly and morbid crowd were assembled in the court room, but they were disappointed in not hearing what they expected. A physician who had examined little Mary Brien, aged nine years, testified that the child had not been disturbed and the charge against Smith was changed to "attempt to commit rape." The afternoon was consumed in hearing the testimony of the prosecution, the witnesses were the girl and her father. The child is an exceptionally bright one and her intelligence in answering questions, her recollection of dates and occurrences having nothing to do with the case, and her knowledge of occurrences connected with her family which had been propounded to ascertain whether she had been taught to make answers directly connected with the case, were answered with such promptness and accuracy, even in the most minute details, that the attorneys present said she was the most marvelous child for her age they had ever seen, yet she is perfectly innocent of the nature of the crime with which she has been connected. When questions having direct connection with the case were propounded they were readily answered. From the evidence it was adduced that Smith assaulted her on two occasions, once while he was walking with her down a lane to a neighbors vegetable garden to buy vegetables and in his own cabin where he invited her to have dinner with him. The father testified that it was in the latter case that he caught Smith in an uncompromising position. He had never suspected anything when he stated for Smith's cabin, but ran over there to deliver some message to him relative to railroad work. This closed the testimony for the prosecution. The ball was reduced from $1,000 to $750 on account of the change in the complaint. Smith who has many friends who regard him as upright and above anything of the kind, of which he is accused, stood his bail and the prisoner was released. The case will be continued to-day.

Edward Daly, Michael Cone, Joe Kelly, C. L. Whitbeck and J. B. Mervin, the latter two alleged detectives, and Chas. D. Blair, the sextette arrested Thursday night for vagrancy were committed to the city jail except Blair, who was discharged. Three of the gang worked on the chain gang yesterday and if the alleged detectives do not pay their fines of $15.85 each by 8 o'clock this morning they will also go to work. Bobby Graham paid $5 and costs yesterday for carrying concealed weapons.
